"EXCELSIOR."

VOL. 83—Established 1832.

GREENVILLE, OHIO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1915

No. 27.

Gettysburg.

A new legislature meets today in Columbus, and in another week a new governor will direct the Ship of State. What may come out of this changed condition we know not. Time will tell, but evidently the ship will navigate new waters and new policies will be inaugurated, which will be for the betterment of the people. The outgoing governor will doubtless return to newspaperdom, where he will be a greater success than he was in the governor's chair.

We are now beginning the new year and I trust we have all entered it with a determination to accomplish more in this than in last year. It is not well that we should always pursue the well-beaten path unless it proves there is no better way. May we always be alert and wherever we find a better way let it be adopted to the profit of ourselves and those about us. There is, I presume, abundant room for improvement in many ways if only apt enough to discover between good and better. Let us show ourselves worthy and act well our part and rightly earn the esteem of our fellows and community in which we live. Oh, how unspeakably happy 1915 will be if it should not be marred by any of the ills of life or suffering, and that the year should bring us world peace. At the rate of slaughter of the human race and destruction of property, in the nature of things, the drain cannot be withstood indefinitely. The end will have to come some time and it ought to be within the present year. I think the year will be full of good events and the end crowned with lasting benefits to the world.

After a week's vacation, our schools opened today.

Roy Coburn became impressed that it was not good for man to be alone and took a wife to cheer him and banish loneliness. May happiness and prosperity be theirs.

I see by an editorial in last week's Journal that Ye Editor found what many other men have found and is beginning to construct a new Eden here on earth. May he and his spouse realize a success in their union. May theirs be a life of unending joy is the wish of Ye Scribe.

Rev. J. F. Warner filled the Presbyterian pulpit yesterday morning and night, in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. J. A. Winkler.

Our M. E. people completed the work on their furnace last week for heating their church.

I. M. Petersime's class held their monthly meeting at the home of P. B. Moul and thus initiated the latter's new home.

We think some people really must have a grouch concerning all affairs, whatsoever. The school does not progress as it ought—the school wagon does not take the right route—education and cultivation fare folly—books are only added expense—and so forth ad infinitum. Do you know any such? My, but they are useful members of a community!

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism.

Everybody who is afflicted with rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. Buy a bottle today.—Adv

Oak Grove.

Well, we are with you once again, hoping you all had a Merry Xmas and wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year.

Warren Schaffer and wife did shopping in Greenville Saturday.

Do You Raise Vegetables?

"A kitchen garden is half a living," they say, and even if you do not raise vegetables for the market you are interested in the remarkable successes made by gardeners and truck farmers by applying new scientific processes to their work.

There is an immense profit in the profitable cultivation of vegetables, whether you eat them or sell them. Canning factories and city markets are demanding more and more vegetables to feed the large percentage of population in big cities who have no room to raise even a hill of potatoes.

Whether you farm or whether you have only a tiny garden on your back lot we advise you to try a new plan next year, and follow the suggestions made in "The Vegetable Grower," the new monthly devoted especially to the culture of garden truck.

The regular price of this magazine is fifty cents a year, but we will send it to you, with two other magazines and our own paper all for only $1.25 a year—the biggest bargain in reading matter ever offered. See our advertisement on page five.

'Twentyone Years.

Dr. Kutchin, the well known Specialist, has been visiting this county every four weeks for over twentyone years. He has never missed a visit, but comes as regularly as the sun. He has never failed to keep his word with every patient he has treated.

His practice is most successful. He is endorsed by those who know him, and the public pronounce him one of the leading specialists. His Medicines have cured or helped hundreds of cases during the past year in Ohio. It is a good record.

You have an opportunity now of being examined by one of the most successful specialists.

Dr. Kutchin's next visit to Greenville, will be on Thursday, Jan. 7, at the Hotel James. —Adv

Irl R. Hicks 1915 Almanac.

OHIO WINTER SHOW

Inauguration Week, Columbus, January 9 to 15.

To insure success for the first Ohio Winter Exposition, four big state associations have combined exhibits and programs. In union there is strength to any institution. A large exhibit in each branch of the show is now assured. The Agricultural Commission has equipped the large central group of buildings with heat, light, toilets and other accommodations to be used by the following: State Horticultural society, State Corn Show association, State Dairyman's organization and the State Poultrymen's association. The state of Ohio has resources and opportunities unknown to many of its own citizens. One part of the state knows too little of the other parts of Ohio. The Winter Show will be a medium of education, instruction and profit to those who will attend. Each state association has arranged a splendid program, and some of the best talent in the country has been secured. The exhibits will be in place by morning of Saturday, Jan. 9, 1915.

GOVERNOR WILLIS WILL VISIT THE BIG WINTER SHOW AT THE OHIO STATE FAIR GROUNDS NEXT WEEK

Governor Frank B. Willis will attend the big Corn and Dairy banquet to be held at the State Fair Grounds, Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, and deliver an address. Many members of the legislature will visit the Winter Show, and the officers of several state associations may urge an appropriation to support an annual exposition of this nature.

OHIO APPLE MAP WILL BE UNIQUE FEATURE OF BIG WINTER SHOW

Over 100 bushels of apples will be used in the monster Apple Map of Ohio. Every county boundary line will be marked by arranging apples of different colors. The map will be thirty feet across and will require the services of several experts a week to construct it. The State Horticultural society expects this map to be one of the interesting features of the Winter Exposition. Hon. Ezra A. Tuttle of New York will speak upon "Marketing Problems," Columbus, Jan. 15, 1915, at 2 p. m.

CORN IS KING

Ohio's Average Yield Increasing--Many Lessons In Profit at Winter Show.

Corn shows, big and little, and corn growing contests, have taught lessons. Not only have records been broken, but average yield per acre is rising in Ohio. Every State Corn Show has had its influence for better quality and greater quantity. Men who have the habit of attending these shows testify as to the profit derived. The state exhibit at the Winter Show in Columbus, inauguration week, will be larger than ever before. The address on "Seed Selection," by Professor Brown of the United States Department of Agriculture, Wednesday, Jan. 13, will pay the expense of the trip to the show. Hon. Ezra A. Tuttle of New York will discuss market problems.

DAIRY PRODUCTS

Important Factor In Ohio Prosperity--The Old Cow Worth Millions.

The annual average butter fat production, per cow, is 150 pounds. This average ought to be doubled. The "boarder cow" steals the profit. The good cow enlarges the bank account. These striking contrasts will be shown at the Big Winter Show, Columbus, inauguration week. Messrs. Marple of Chicago and Nichols of Cleveland, two orators of national fame, will appear on the speakers' program. The latest hints, helps and suggestions in the dairy world will be on exhibition, in the form of machinery, methods, etc. The entire Woman's Building at the State Fair Grounds will be used for the State Dairy Show, Jan. 9-15. Dr. A. Elchhorn of the United States Department of Agriculture will lecture on the history and control of the foot and mouth disease in cattle, at the Chamber of Commerce Building, Thursday at 2 p. m., Jan. 14. Moving pictures showing the disease and its eradication will be shown during the lecture. Hon. Ezra A. Tuttle of New York will speak upon market problems, Wednesday, 2 p. m., Jan. 13, 1915.

HEN CACKLES PART OF NATION'S MUSIC

Poultry and Eggs Are Choice Diet and Fit All.

Which was first—the chicken or the egg? When the world's last picture is painted the old hen will have a place in the foreground. Few folks realize what a real asset the hen is to the nation as a wealth and food producer. There is a big difference between the right breed of poultry and the kind that does not pay to keep. The men who have made the State Poultry Show a success in the past have rendered a good service to Ohio. This year the State Show will be held in connection with, and as a part of, the Winter Exposition, at Columbus, State Fair Grounds, Jan. 9 to 15. F. S. Jacoby of Ohio State University will speak at the Chamber of Commerce, Thursday, Jan. 15. Ezra A. Tuttle of New York will speak upon the marketing problems, Jan. 13.
